Los Angeles, CA - Following the release of her debut EP, COPY & Paste in March 2022, R&B/Pop artist Jilly returns with her emotional ballad, “I Must Really Love You.”

Co-written by Ne-Yo and produced by Lil Rich, “I Must Really Love You” shows us a side of Jilly we’ve never heard before. The ballad showcases Jilly’s vulnerability as she sings about the pain and emotions she experienced during a very public time in her relationship.

Speaking about “I Must Really Love You,” Jilly shares,

“This song is a moment of reflection for me, as I embrace being open and honest, sharing one of my deepest pains and emotions with the world.

I Must Really Love You was written from a place of complete vulnerability. This life is full of imperfection, but true love truly does conquer all.”

Directed by Jilly and co-directed by Damien Sandoval, the music video portrays the perfect life that everyone believes Jilly lives daily. But in reality, her life is far from perfect. The video showcases what Jilly experienced privately behind closed doors, showing her raw and heartbreaking emotions. While at the mercy of the public, who continuously shared their thoughts and words, throwing stones through their glass houses.
